The Hyacinths Lend Themselves to the Formal Planting.

Hyacinths

The Hyacinth is one of the most popular of the fall bulbs and commands a place in every home and garden. There is nothing more attractive than a planting of Hyacinths, with their brilliant colors and delightful fragrance, together with their long keeping qualities and decorative appearance. They can be flowered in the house as early as January and a succession of bloom may be had until April by planting at suitable intervals and bringing to light and heat in rotation.

Keizerkroon Tulips—Gorgeous in Mass Planting.

Tulips

For gorgeous display as an early spring flower, the Tulips are, with out question, supreme. They are so entirely hardy and easily cared for, and they flower so freely in city or country, in sun or shade, that their popularity never wanes but increases year by year. By proper selection of varieties, their flowers may be enjoyed from early April to June and they come in almost every conceivable hue, surpassing all other flowers in range and brilliancy of color. Those who know Tulips in their infinite beauty and variety do not wonder at the wild enthusiasm and speculation which raged in Holland during the first part of the seventeenth century, when single bulbs of new varieties sold for more than their weight in gold.

Although its popularity today is more widespread than ever, the Tulip, fortunately, is no longer a flower for only the wealthy. Bulbs of all but the most recent novelties are low in price and well within the range of the most modest pocketbook. The Tulip is, indeed, a flower that every lover of the beautiful may enjoy.

There are several classes or types of Tulips, differing in height and season of bloom, range of color, and other characteristics. All are easy to grow and hardy outdoors, while most of them are also easily forced in pots or pans in the house. The Single Early Tulips are the first to bloom in the spring. In outdoor beds, the bulbs should be planted 5 to 6 inches apart and covered with 3 to 4 inches of soil. For house culture, plant four to six bulbs in a 6-inch pot and a proportionate number in the larger bulb-pans. Treat them in the same manner as Hyacinths and remember that a good growth of roots is essential before the plants are brought into the light.

Peonies are the Most Beautiful of the Hardy Perennials.

Hardy Peonies--King of Flowers

The Peony is unquestionably the most beautiful of the hardy perennials. Being hardy and persistent, it requires the minimum of culture, and yet results are always achieved. Year after year it generously increases in size and the number of blooms it produces. The varieties we have selected to propagate and offer you in this catalogue are the best and most reliable that have been introduced during the last seventy-five years. These varieties are sure bloomers every year, have beautiful and abundant bloom, are strong growers, and are therefore profitable to grow for the cut-flower trade, and likewise are adapted to the home garden for the home bouquet. By selecting any of the varieties you will not go wrong.

We prefer to plant Peonies during the month of September. At this time of the year the plant has put on its full growth, has formed the eyes which produce next year's flower stalks, and lies perfectly dormant, so that when taken up and transplanted there is absolutely no danger of injuring the plant.
